The Modern Tyranny Movement

Modern Tyranny Movement:

The Tyranny Movement began in earnest at the turn of the last century in 1913. The “Money Trust” as found to exist in a report by the United States House of Representatives Subcommittee on Banking and Currency, entitled “Investigation of Financial and Monetary Conditions in the United States managed to drive the final nails into the coffin of the American Constitutional Republic. The victory was secured with the passage of the FEDERAL RESERVE Act in December of 1913, which created the 3rd Central Bank of the United States.

The primary motivator was a desire by the “Money Trust” to regain its lost monopoly over the nation’s monetary policy and larger influence over the government as a whole while fostering an endless cycle of credit, ergo debt. The private control over the nation’s monetary policy had slipped from their grasp after Nicolas Biddle threatened to cause an economic depression by contracting the money supply if Congress did not renew the 2nd central bank’s charter. Mr. Biddle’s arrogant threat finally turned the tide in favor of President Andrew Jackson who promised during his campaign for reelection to end the reign of the 2nd central bank and return control of the nation’s money back to the Department of Treasury.

In defeat however, the central bankers learned an important lesson. Mr. Biddle’s demise came from the fact that he was unable to secure enough support from the various state legislatures. Elected state legislatures were designated by the Constitution as the body in charge of appointing Senators to the Congress. After learning of Mr. Biddle’s threat to cause an economic depression, the majority of state legislatures, including Mr. Biddle’s home state of Pennsylvania directed the Senators to vote against renewal of the 2nd Central Bank’s charter.

Therefore, prior to securing passage of the FEDERAL RESERVE Act of 1913, the “Money Trust” first successfully waged a campaign of “democratic populism” urging the Constitution be amended to allow for the direct election of Senators. On April 8th of 1913, the 17th Amendment became law, thereby making Senators beholden to popular campaigns. Campaigns - which would require fund-raising and massive money expenditures just as has always been required by members of the House of Representatives.

Consequently, instead of needing to lobby and influence forty-eight separate state legislatures made up of hundreds of individual elected members, the lobbying efforts could be directed at the ninety-six respective Senators. All of whom were now in direct reach while in the District of Columbia.

Finally, in order collateralize the “money” loaned back to the Federal government with interest, the 16th Amendment; Income tax became law on February 3rd also in 1913. Just eighteen years prior, the Supreme Court had ruled income tax unconstitutional due to it not being an equally apportioned direct tax as authorized in the Constitution.

The insidiousness of income tax was finally made plain in 1984 with the issuance of the “Grace Commission” report. The report illustrated how 1/3 of all income tax revenue was lost due to fraud or waste, the second third escapes collection, and the final third is split between existing “transfer payments” and interest paid to the FEDERAL RESERVE in order to service the national debt.

Thus, on the first day of each fiscal year, our government has a balance of $0.00 from which to operate. This in turn requires the Federal Government to borrow even more money from the FEDERAL RESERVE; further increasing the total balance on the national debt, which in turn means even more interest paid to the private banking cartel the following year. A perpetual cycle of ever increasing debt that seeks only to enrich the private bankers who own outright the FEDERAL RESERVE.

Noteworthy Tyrannical Activity from 1913 - 2001:

- 02/03/1913: “Income Tax”
- 04/08/1913: “Direct Election of Senators”
- 12/23/1913: “FEDERAL RESERVE Act”
- 06/15/1919: “Espionage Act” publishing information or dissent about government during war time punishable by jail time.

- 07/01/1973: “Reorganization Plan No. 2” Created Drug Enforcement Agency, which included new revenue raising mechanism for the prosecution of narcotics, which in turn has led to the rise of organized crime and gangland turf wars.
- 1980’s: “National Program Office” responsible for administering Continuity of Government. Portion declassified and decommissioned under President Clinton, reactivated by President George W. Bush after September 11th, 2001. Small portions revealed, published by James Mann of “The Atlantic” entitled “The Armageddon Plan” March 2004.
- 08/21/1992 “Raid on Ruby Ridge” botch raid by Federal agents who shot and killed Samuel Weaver age 14 and Vicki Weaver age 42 in an attempt to bring Randy Weaver into court on false weapons charges. Mr. Weaver was found not guilty on all charges. The Federal agents responsible for the deaths of Mr. Weaver’s wife and teenage son, were never prosecuted.
- 02/28/1993: “Branch Davidian Massacre at Waco, Texas” botched BATF raid on branch Davidians in Waco Texas. Agents claimed David Koresh and his followers were stockpiling illegal weapons. FBI then set fire to compound after tanks knocked numerous holes in church walls, injecting highly flammable CS gas into the church while blocking exits with automatic gunfire as documented on infrared video captured via FBI reconnaissance plane. In total 56 adults and 25 children under the age of 15 died in the massacre. 4 BATF agents were killed during the siege. Of the remaining survivors, 8 were charged solely from actions during the siege, all surviving Davidians were cleared of murder, and none found guilty on original claim of stockpiling of illegal weapons.
- 05/09/2001 “Raid on Rainbow Farm” Federal raid on farm known for its support of medical marijuana and summer festivals. Federal snipers shot and killed Tom Crosslin after he spotted camouflaged agents on his property. His partner Rolland Rahm is also shot and killed by FBI sniper’s after FBI sets fire to their home.

The Tyranny Movement Post September 11, 2001

During this period the central authority seized upon the opportunity presented after the tragedy of the September 11th attacks. The government’s own commission in their “September 11th Report” referred to the attacks as “blowback” or unintended consequences due to almost a century of reckless foreign policy, interventionist wars, and coup d’états instigated by the C.I.A.

- 10/26/2001: “The Patriot Act” wholly guts 4th Amendment right to privacy in papers and persons. Allows for warrantless wiretapping of home as well as internet, library and bank records. Redefines “terrorism” so broadly that a threat to kill or harm another person qualifies as an act of terrorism. TITLE 18 U.S.C. § 844(e). Not one member of Congress read the 342 page document before voting on the bill.
- 11/25/2002: “Homeland Security Act of 2002” established the new super bureaucracy, Department of Homeland Security.

- 10/17/2006: “Military Commissions Act” legal wrangling by executive branch to give cover of law in order to torture in wake of United States Supreme Court Decision in Hamdan v. Rumsfeld. Also legalized indefinite detainment of enemy combatants. Redefines term “enemy combatant” to encompass domestic volunteer groups and militia members.

- 09/08/2005: “Katrina Gun Confiscations” in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina, Police Superintendent Eddie Compass issued order to Federal Marshals and National Guard to confiscate all civilian held firearms within city limits of New Orleans. Citizens such as 58 year old Patricia Konie who stayed behind and owned an old revolver was beaten, suffered a broken shoulder, and was taken into police custody for failing to “surrender her firearm”.
- 03/25/2005: President Bush meets with Mexican president Vicente Fox and Canadian Prime Minister Paul Martin to negotiate unilateral trade and security treaties outside of the required 2/3 approval of the U.S. Senate, per the Constitution, Article I, Section II.

- 09/21/2005: Paramilitary group “Blackwater” know known as “Xe” authorized by Department of Homeland Security to operate in New Orleans to make arrests and use lethal force if necessary against American Citizens, as reported by “The Nation” September 25th, 2005.
- 08/15/2006: Then House Representative Rahm Emanuel and Bruce Reed publish the book entitled “The Plan: Big Ideas for America” in which he lays out his despotic desire to coerce all Americans aged 18 to 24 into compulsory civil service, couched in terms of “volunteering”.
- 05/04/2007: “NSPD 51/Homeland Security Presidential Directive HSPD-20” also known as “Executive Directive 51” reconstitutes “National Program Office” in order to carry out Continuity of Government plans begun under President Reagan. Authorizes President to implement C.O.G procedures via “a cooperative effort among the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the Federal Government, coordinated by the President,” without any oversight by Congress. Establishes position of “National Continuity Coordinator”. Gives broad discretion to President to issue such action solely “when the president considers an emergency to have occurred”
- 04/23/2007: United States Bureau of Labor Statistics releases data indicating the Dollar has fallen to $0.03 cents in value compared to 1913 Dollar prior to inception of FEDERAL RESERVE.
- 03/31/2008: “Blueprint for a Modernized Financial Regulatory Reform” released by Secretary of the Treasury Hank Paulson arguing for broad new sweeping powers for Treasury Department.
- 09/26/2008: Representative Brad Sherman (D-CA) indicates members of Congress threatened with martial law for voting no on TARP Bailout.
- 10/01/2008: U.S. Army NORTHCOM activates 3rd Infantry, 1st Brigade as “on-call Domestic Federal Response” to possible civil unrest in future. 1st time in American history, direct violation of Posse Comitatus Act of 1878 forbidding use of Federal troops from domestic operations.
- 10/03/2008: “Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008” authorizes TARP Bailout funds to be stolen from taxpayers and given directly to banks.
- 10/07/2008: “FISA Amendment Act of 2008” provides blanket immunity to communication companies who aide government in warrantless wiretapping, while also removing requirement for describing need and area to be searched.

UNCLASSIFIED//PRO-CONSTITUTIONAL LIBERTY SENSITIVE (U//PCLS)

- 10/24/2008: Department of Homeland Security via ICE and CBP agents conduct random checkpoint searches in 100 mile wide swath around entire country, publicly violating the 4th Amendment.

- 11/04/2008: Strategic Studies Institutes, United States Army War College publishes report entitled “KNOWN UNKNOWN UNCONVENTIONAL “STRATEGIC SHOCKS” IN DEFENSE STRATEGY DEVELOPMENT” documenting the necessity to be prepared for domestic uprising and civil unrest in America.
- 11/09/2008: Then President-Elect Obama’s transition website retracts portions of paragraphs pertaining to “compulsory civil service” as proposed by Chief of Staff, Rahm Emanuel.
- 11/10/2008: FEDERAL RESERVE refuses to identify recipients of TARP Bailout money after promising transparency during debate and passage of bill.
- 11/12/2008: Bloomberg LP sues Board of Governors of the FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM in U.S. District Court to force disclosure of TARP bailout recipients.
- 11/20/2008: Senator Inhofe (R-OK) confirms in a radio interview on KFAQ that Treasury Secretary Hank Paulson threatened members of Congress with the institution of martial law as early as September 19th, 2008 if “Banker Bailout Bill” was not passed.
- 12/19/2008: President Bush utilizes Executive Order to sidestep Congress and approves bailout loans to big 3 auto-makers. The EO approves previously earmarked TARP bailout funds for bankers to be funneled to auto-makers.

- 02/17/2009: “American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009” additional $838 Billion Dollar bailout bill to bankers, automakers, etcetera. 1,419 pages, not one member read final bill. President Obama broke campaign promise to put bill online for public review prior to final vote.

- 02/20/2009: The Missouri Information Analysis Center a D.H.S fusion center in Jefferson City, MO releases a report entitled “The Modern Militia Movement” to local and state law enforcement officers. The report attempts to link supporters of Representative Ron Paul as dangerous homegrown terrorist radicals as well as all who dare oppose the FEDERAL RESERVE, the banker bailouts, or display the historical Gadsden flag.
- 03/10/2009: Military takes role of domestic police force violating Posse Comitatus after gunman kills 10 and then himself.
- 03/18/2009: FEDERAL RESERVE prints an additional $1,000,000,000,000.00 Dollars out of thin air without collateralizing debt.
- 03/18/2009: House passes “The Generations Invigorating Volunteerism and Education Act” a.k.a “The Give Act” establishing a Congressional Commission on Civil Service tasked with determining whether mandatory service requirement for all young people in America could be developed and implemented successfully.
- 03/19/2009: In a shell game after first authorizing executive bonuses to recipients of bailout funds, Congress attempts to capitalize on populous sentiment against Wall Street and distract attention away from Congress’ historically low approval ratings by attempting to tax executive bonuses at a rate of 90%. The move to specifically target one group of citizens is referred to as a “Bill of Attainder” and is specifically prohibited in the U.S. Constitution, ARTICLE I, SECTION IX.
- 03/26/2009: President Obama outlines plan to force banks to renegotiate mortgages, violating ARTICLE I, SECTION X of the U.S. Constitution a.k.a “The Contract Clause” which provides only power to regulate uniform Bankruptcy laws, not coerce specific renegotiation.

Additional Motivators for Tyrannical Activity

Desperate Desire to Cling to Power in Perpetuity: Most of the plutocratic oligarchs and their bureaucratic foot soldiers are wholly incapable of surviving in the private sector and thus must do whatever it takes to retain their corrupted seats of influence by dictating endless rules and regulations they themselves prefer not to follow. A perfect example is current Treasury Secretary, Timothy Geithner. Not only does he look like a deer in headlights during live appearances, he also decided not to pay his income taxes, yet now finds himself in charge of the very collection arm he avoided.

Anticipation of the economic collapse of the U.S. Government: Many despots realize the days of endless easy access to a wholly fiat currency are numbered. They are aware that distrust of government and their free falling approval ratings may threaten their reign of economic and personal tyranny over the American people. Thus, they will step up attempts to control and police the growing chorus of dissent beginning to echo from coast-to-coast. Additionally, they will attempt to return to the well for the tried and true tactic of instigating class warfare amongst the people in a vain attempt to distract the focus away from their flawed desires of central nanny state planning.

I believe there are more instances of the abridgment of the freedom of the people by gradual and silent encroachments of those in power, than by violent and sudden usurpations;

James Madison, 4th President

“The natural progress of things is for liberty to yield, and government to gain ground.” - Thomas Jefferson to Edward Carrington, Paris, 27 May 1788:

The founding generation knew all too well the dangers of government. Thus they sought to bind the hands of the central authority via the Constitution. Unfortunately, we relied too heavily as an outright guarantee instead of a compact secured from the hard fought battles of the Revolution. We the People allowed ourselves to become wholly disinterested in politics, merely chalking it up to being far too confusing or bothersome to learn. Instead we gladly welcomed our new title of consumers with open arms. We succumbed to the flashing lights and gadgets of the day such as iPhones, American Idol, etc as little by little our inherent liberties were chipped away by an ever encroaching tyranny.

The troubles we face are nothing new to humanity. There has forever existed a small number of individuals hell bent on legislating and controlling our lives for the benefit of their own. History illustrates for us time and time again that the most successful tool to achieve this end is money and the manipulation thereof. Therefore, this contrived economic crisis is not a surprise. One need not be a genius to figure out that an economic problem caused by too much spending and too little saving is not cured by more endless spending to support failing car companies, gadgets, and banks who gambled out money and lost.

The power to manipulate our economy and money must be removed from any and all private cadres of central bankers. We must return to sound Constitutional money pegged to a true store of value such as gold and silver, not a currency born from a printing press.

We have the power to make the world over yet again, taking the lessons we have learned, first and foremost that the inherent liberty so eloquently articulated in past and current writings belongs to us all; whether we are black, white, gay, straight, Christian or Muslim, etc. Humanity is entitled to its inherent liberties, not a life of economic servitude at the behest of the plutocrats and bankers.

Tyranny Trends:

Ideologies

Members of the tyranny movement often subscribe to the ideology of other extreme statist movements such as:

Democratic Party: Leaders of this ideology seek to instill a belief that anyone who makes more money than you is evil and thus it is therefore justified that government take from them to redistribute wealth to groups friendly or supportive to the party. They also hold firmly that government should run all large economic sectors such as health care, charity, education, and retirement regardless of a poor track record.

Republican Party: Party bosses seek to imbue an overly macho infatuation with war regardless that many have never seen or come close to witnessing its atrocities. They believe first and foremost in using overwhelming military force in order to achieve obedience of other nations and or people. Further, they often view war as a game of chess frequently playing one side against the other in a revolving door of allies and enemies. Spokesman for this party are to reaffirm ad nauseam that dissent or criticism of foreign policy, war strategy, etc is a character flaw and indicates hatred for both country and the soldiers the chicken-hawk leaders send off to battle in support of their ideology.

Neo-Conservative: An abhorrent amalgamation of both of the aforementioned. An almost fanatical worship of authoritarian supremacy whereby no facet of life should be out of the realm of governance. This fanaticism leads many members into attempting to justify the most repugnant of human atrocities such as torture. Critics of their policies are dealt with by making light of torture victims dismissing allegations of water boarding as “ a little water splashed over their face” or solitary confinement with extreme temperature changes and constant loud music blasted 24 hours a day 7 days a week as “Club FED” with 3 meals a day and access to their holy book of preference.

Organization

Public Groups: These groups hold conferences and are generally open to the public. These groups desire to speak with an air of authority and seek to foment public opinion into their overly simplistic view of the world. Public groups work tirelessly to package their objectives into nice sounding rhetoric while forwarding their agendas nonetheless. An example of this type of group would be The Council on Foreign Relations. Formed shortly after the disastrous disbandment of the President Woodrow Wilson’s League of Nations. The CFR in concert with the Project for a New American Century were instrumental in propagandizing the necessity of war with Iraq.

Underground Groups: These groups are those of which are purposefully dismissed publicly by members as fanatical or conspiracy for many years before finally coping to their existence at a time which is deemed more politically palatable or more likely to be overlooked. An example of one such group is the annual gathering known as “The Bohemian Grove.” Regardless of snippets of information released through the press over the years, politically connected members, such a David Gergen, indignantly denied its existence until hidden camera footage captured by Alex Jones documented their bizarre rituals and was made public on July 15th, 2000.

Department of Homeland Security Fusion Centers: Centers publicly said to be needed to facilitate the sharing of information between Federal, State, and Local authorities. Supposedly designed to gather information from both government and other public sources, their role as a statist propaganda machine was revealed in March of 2009 after releasing their report linking dissent against government to terrorism. The ramifications would indeed be laughable if not for the default credibility assigned to such agencies. However, their inaccurate broadly defined report seeks to inform local and state law enforcement that people who support third party candidates are likely to be radical extremists who desire to commit acts of violence against them and/or the government.

Implications for Citizens who Question Government Policy

There are significant differences between dissent and terrorism.

Dissent: Questioning ones government is necessary as a mechanism to enact reform or fix abuses by state authority.

any government which can not stand up to published criticism deserves to fall.

Thomas Jefferson

Author

Declaration of Independence

Terrorism: Instilling a permanent level of fear and or harm, through large scale threats or public acts of violence.

Implications for the Nation

Liberties at Risk

- Speech, Religion, access to uncensored information, free association, press, privacy, trial by jury, freedom from double jeopardy, no cruel and unusual punishments,
- Right to freely enter into a binding contract.
- Freedom from individually legislated punishments i.e. Bills of Attainder.
- The right to be born free from debt accumulated by forebearers.

Common Tyranny Symbols:

Political and Pro-Statist Rhetoric:

UNCLASSIFIED//PRO-CONSTITUTIONAL LIBERTY SENSITIVE (U//PCLS)

Political paraphernalia: Tyrants most commonly associate with the main power structure which attempts to masquerade as a two party system offering some semblance of “choice.” It is not uncommon for tyrants to display Democratic Party, Republican Party, Council on Foreign Relations, or even Socialist material. These members are usually supporters of current and former Presidents: Barack Obama, George W. Bush, and Bill Clinton.

Pro-Statist Propaganda: Tyrants commonly display pictures, issue executive orders, pass legislation, display cartoons, bumper stickers that contain anti-Constitution rhetoric. Most of the material will depict the Constitution, Bill of Rights, Founding Generation in a derogatory manner. Additionally, the nanny state, imperialism, and multilateral international institutions such as the United Nations, International Monetary Fund, World Bank, World Trade Organization, will be supported and endlessly praised by members of the plutocratic oligarchy.

Tyranny Movement Symbols:

United Nations Flag: Created in 1947 symbolizing an international authority destroying local sovereignty everywhere it goes.

Internal Revenue Service: Logo of collection arm to steal wages from Americans. Under Sec. of Treasury who was the President of the New York FEDERAL RESERVE, hmm imagine that.

FEDERAL RESERVE SEAL: Private cartel of bankers in complete control of currency and larger monetary policy. Owners benefit regardless of boom or bust cycles in economy.

Political Party Logos: A jackass and bloated elephant fed to the populous as a means to offer the illusion of choice to voters. Regardless of whom is elected, government power increases. Whereas the jackasses seek to create a wholly dependent populous via the nanny state, the bloated elephant offers glorious expansion of empire through the blood soaked hands of endless war.

The Great Obama Seal: Logo of current puppet for a public grown cynical with politics as usual. Made repetitive use of the word change in order to seem genuine. Has offered still more of the same.

Literature and Media Common to the Tyranny Movement:

Reefer Madness: Propaganda film designed to put the fear of god into people about a weed. Thus granting government a wonderful revenue stream via property confiscation. Amazingly, no one seemed to recall how unsuccessful alcohol prohibition was.

Wag the Dog: Film about a PR spin doctor hired to cover up political scandal via the production of a Hollywood produced contrived external boogie monster.

The Plan: Big Ideas for America: A statist propaganda book filled with the best double-speak since Orwell's 1984. Ideas like mandatory volunteerism abound in this laugh-out loud book of coercive hijinks and statist wet dreams.
